

Students' Society Meeting Favours Girl Cheer Leaders

NFCUS, Winter Carnival Come Under Discussion

At last night's meeting of the Students' Society in the Union Ballroom, attendance was barely short of a quorum. Women cheer leaders, the NFCUS, and the proposed winter carnival came under discussion.

After considerable discussion, the meeting passed a resolution that the students of McGill University are in favour of women cheerleaders at athletic events, and respectfully urge the Senate to reconsider their decision banning them on the campus. Lack of a complete quorum bars the resolution from being an official one of the Students' Society, but the fact that it was passed by four hundred students will, it is believed, carry considerable weight.

In the discussion from the floor, some students expressed their desire for "unconditional surrender" on the part of the University authorities; that the cheerleaders should have complete freedom in dress and performance. However, Barbara Jackson, vice-president of the Women's Union, declared that the Union has appointed a committee to regulate the choice and behaviour of the girls, and would take full responsibility in the matter. Accordingly, this amendment was added to the original resolution.

WINTER CARNIVAL

SEC President Eddie Ballon, in the chair, outlined a proposed Winter Carnival at McGill. A committee led by John Skelton is now working in preparation for the event, he stated, and the festival, which is slated for the week-end of February 20, will include sleigh-rides, speedskating, and hockey in Nelson Stadium, among other items.

Speaking of the recent regional meet of the NFCUS at Kingston, at which he and Marcel Joyal were McGill representatives, Ballon said that the conference had been a political discussion whatsoever, but was concerned with matters of purely practical interest to students.

CONCRETE ACHIEVEMENTS

He cited reduced railroad fares for students as among the concrete achievements of the Federation, along with the establishment of various scholarships. An Inter-Varsity Dramatic Festival, a Canada-wide debating union, and a nation-wide intercollegiate athletics union are, he stated, some of the aims which it hopes to accomplish in the near future. The latter is to be presented before the national meeting at Winnipeg during the Christmas vacation.

Joyal, in answer to a question concerning this year's organization of the McGill branch of NFCUS, replied that he had called a meeting for the near future.

HERALD TRIBUNE FORUM

Daily Editor-in-Chief Al Tunis, called upon to give an account of the New York Herald Tribune Forum, at which he and Jack Ronson were McGill representatives, explained that the students in attendance had formed a forum of their own. He said that a wide cross-section of student opinion had resulted, and expressed the belief that a similar forum of Montreal Universities would have favourable results.

Personality Facts Outlined In Second 'Living' Lecture

By ROSS SIMMS

'Learning To Live', second lecture in the 'Living' series, was delivered last evening to an overflow audience in Moyses Hall by Dr. Lawrence K. Frank, Director Zachary Institute of Human Development, New York City.

Dr. Frank said, "Patterns are established in early childhood and that it was the job of parents to help their children to learn without warping their personalities."

Unique Man

He claimed that man was unique in that he was an organism capable of making many adaptations; one of these is learning to live in society. The family is the moulder of the child's personality, he said, and personality is the most important aspect of the individual.

vidual. It is a dynamic process which is influenced by many factors; the beliefs, traditions and culture which parents hand down to their children help to develop their personality.

Dr. Frank stressed that "Early care during the first four or five years of the child's life is of major importance in the development of personality". He mentioned that it was necessary to attempt to understand the emotional nature of the child, as failure to do this might result in a mischievous or maladjusted individual. He explained that the aim of learning was to develop self-discipline so as to establish a pattern for later social living.

The Ayes Have It — But Good!

THIS IS THE WAY THINGS LOOKED in the Union Ballroom last night when SEC President Eddie Ballon asked for a show of hands on the question of women cheerleaders at McGill athletic events. The opinions expressed by the students present, previous to the vote, were almost entirely pro. Nobody openly attacked the resolution, although some were in favor of strict supervision of the girls, should the Senate choose to look upon the matter with a favourable eye. The resolution cannot be an official one of the Society because a quorum (500 students) was not present. (Daily Photo — Marc Rapaport.)

Daily Masthead Meeting

There will be a meeting of all members of the Daily Masthead on Friday at 1:00 p.m. in the Daily office. All masthead members are urged to attend, as some important problems are to be discussed.

Liberal Club Will Discuss "Mock" Bill

The McGill Liberal Club will hold its regular weekly meeting tomorrow, Friday, at 1:00 p.m. in the New Room of the McGill Union. All members of the Club and all those who wish to join are asked by the President, Marcel Joyal, to attend the meeting, and voice their opinions.

The main topic of discussion at the meeting will be the bill which the Liberal Government will present at the coming session of the Model Parliament. This bill is at present in the hands of a Committee, and will be presented at the meeting for any changes or discussion from the club members.

Members are also asked by the President to bear in mind that a number of speakers will be required to present the bill and to act as Cabinet Ministers at the Parliament. Anyone who wishes to help out in this regard will be asked to signify their willingness at the meeting.

SLC Member To Speak Fri.

Daniel Paltiel will speak at a noon hour (1-2 p.m.) meeting of the Student Labour Club tomorrow in the Music Room of the McGill Union. Mr. Paltiel spent the summer months in Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia on the 22-person McGill delegation, representing the Student Labor Club. His talk will be in the form of a report to members of the club.

Elections will also take place at this meeting for a new executive and for this reason all members are especially requested to attend. Those people who wish to become members of the club are also invited to turn out to the meeting, as it will be possible for them to become official members and receive membership cards. Dues will be 50c for the year.

Dawsonites' Spirit, Sanity, in Question

By DONALD SALMON

The fact that election rally held in Theatre 1 on Monday night resulted in a glorious melee has led to many opinions about the sanity of the attending audience.

In the first place the turnout was so small that we hasten to agree with the statement of Boris Muskatov, candidate for the Presidency of the Arts and Science Society. Muskatov stated that there was a definite need of "Spirit" at Dawson College, and if the size of the audience was any measure of the interest held by the students at large then the truth of this statement is evident. A. W. Savery said that some individuals do not consider the elections as serious enough to warrant their attention and co-operation. Savery, who is not a new student at Dawson added something to his remarks which is very significant. He stated that the election rally was typical of the behaviour of Dawson students. If so, we can only wonder at the outcome of our elections.

Speeches Interrupted

Ivan Mindlin had something to say about the conduct of the group. Although the speeches were supposed to be limited to three minutes each, the heckling and horn-blowing together with cries of "Beatie for President" prevented the observation of this regulation.

B. R. Bourke expressed the opinion that the reason for the outbreak was due to the fact that the larger part of the audience attended for the purpose of supporting one specific person, and that the general attitude was a selfish one insofar as it prevented freedom of speech for the other candidates.

THOSE PLUMBERS

M. Silverberg thought that turning out the lights shortly after the speech of George Beattie was performed by a certain group of renegade engineers.

Meantime, a statement has been issued on the matter by J. E. Durrocher, vice-president of the Students' Council. It reads:

"The much-vaunted Dawson spirit was certainly not evident at last night's election rally. The turnout was very poor despite advance publicity given in the Daily and on posters in the mess hall. A certain group of students further aggravated the situation by their disgusting and juvenile conduct at the rally."

"It is sincerely hoped that Dawson students will show a keener interest in their own welfare by turning out to vote in large numbers on election day."

Revue Meets, Hopes to Find Varied Talent

A meeting for all those interested in working behind the scenes in the Red and White Revue is to take place this afternoon at two o'clock in the Revue Office, Union basement. Script writers, stage hands, electricians, and an experienced publicity man are urgently needed, and any student so inclined should not fail to attend the meeting.

Participants are also wanted for other fields. Those interested in acting and possessing some ability, or any girl wanting to join the chorus, should seek an interview with Gerry O'Brien, producer of the Revue.

All students wanting to audition are asked to register next Tuesday — also in the Revue office. While experience is not required of the applicants, on registering they will be asked to give their qualifications and aptitudes.

The Revue is scheduled to take place in Moyses Hall Feb. 9 to 14, inclusive.

Candidates in Today's Election

ROSALIE BALLANTYNE

MARILYN RICHARDSON

MARY STEPHENS

Women's Union Election To Take Place Today; Polls Open From 9 to 5

Jazz Society Meeting At 5 This Afternoon

The proposed McGill Hot Jazz Society will hold its first meeting at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the Music Room of the Union. All students interested in jazz are asked to turn out as the success of this meeting will determine whether or not the Society will be continued.

Tentative plans have been made for a series of lectures on the history of jazz and its development, to be illustrated by recordings made by representative artists from New Orleans to Be-bop. Also, a jam session is slated to take place sometime during the school year.

Hess Speaks Today on PC Party Policy

"Progressive Conservative Policy" will be the subject of an address by George J. Hess at a meeting of the Progressive Conservative Club today at 5 p.m. in the New Room of the Union.

Mr. Hess, the Progressive Conservative candidate for Spadina in 1945, is a prominent member of the party. He is well qualified to speak on the subject chosen, having done considerable research along this line. He recently published privately a pamphlet on policy.

A graduate of the Royal Military College and the University of Toronto, Mr. Hess also studied at Cambridge. An active man and former football player, he is also a prominent business man today. A veteran of World War II, he was wounded in Holland in the fall of 1944 while Brigade Major, 5th Infantry Brigade, and was evacuated to Canada.

This meeting of the Progressive Conservative Club will be open to all students, and a question period will be held at the conclusion of Mr. Hess' speech.

Cosmo Dance On Hallowe'en

The horrible creature seen wandering around the Union in cape and cowl yesterday was not a co-ed with the New Look but an escaped inmate of the Mediaeval Conclave, according to Yogi Johnson of the Cosmo Club.

While this may not be a preview of things to come in the fashion world, he stated, we at least know what to expect at the Cosmo Hallowe'en Hop. An annual affair on the Cosmo calendar, it is scheduled for the Union Ballroom tomorrow night at 9:00 o'clock.

Price of admission is 60 cents and tickets can be had at the Union Tuck Shop. They will also be sold at the door.

Besides dancing, the program will include entertainment and refreshments, while prizes will be awarded for costumes on the basis of originality.

All Coeds Entitled to Vote; Booths at Convenient Points

Campus co-eds will go to the polls today to vote for their candidates for the position of President of the Women's Union.

Members of the Red Wing Society will be in attendance at the polling booths from 9 until 5 today. These booths will be located at strategic points in Royal Victoria College, the Medical Building, the Biological Building, Beatty Memorial Hall on University Street, and the Women's Common Room in the Arts Building. Freshettes—some of whom may be under the impression that they are not eligible—are fully entitled to vote.

It has been requested that women students cast their votes when they have a free period, if possible, rather than during the ten minute interval while classes are changing. This will facilitate matters for those in charge of the booths, and will help to eliminate congestion at the polls.

See Platforms

The platforms of the four nominees, Rosalie Ballantyne, Marilyn Richardson, Ann Ryan and Mary Stephens, which appeared in an earlier issue of the Daily, are again presented on page four for the convenience of those who have not already read them.

The office of President is the highest which can be filled by a woman on the campus, and it entails many responsibilities, not the least of which is representation on the Students' Executive Council, of all the women attending the university. In addition to this, the president is a member of various committees and is called upon to further the interests of women students generally.

It is urged that all women on the campus will support their candidate by casting what may be a deciding ballot in today's election.

Club Sponsors Social Work; Needs Helpers

The tremendous good that University student-workers can do in guiding the less fortunate to find themselves was stressed by Mr. Macarney, head worker at the University Settlement, yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the C.C.F. Social Service Committee in the Union.

Mr. Macarney briefly outlined the work of the Settlement with young people. This work includes that of Scouts, Guides, instruction in woodcraft and music. He also emphasized that the secret of community work is to instill a spirit of democracy among the poor in order to help them realize their position and rise above their present level.

The University Settlement, oldest organization of its kind in Montreal, was started in 1891 by McGill students. However, during recent years there has been little or no male participation in student social work. This year the C.C.F. has organized a Social Service Committee in the hopes that not only women but also men will take an active interest in aiding the poor of the city.

Miss Hall, head of the Women's and Girl's department made a special appeal for leaders to instruct in dramatics, music and advanced types of handiwork.

Betty Ann Henley, secretary of the C.C.F., asked for volunteers at the close of the meeting and her appeal received a one hundred per cent response from those present.

"DAILY" LECTURE

The last in the series of lectures on journalism sponsored by "The Daily", will be given today by Norm Wolfe, Sports Editor, at 5:15 in the New Room of the Union. He will speak on the various aspects of sports writing, and all sports reporters as well as any other interested students are invited to attend.

Tickets for the Gambol will cost $1.25 per couplet.

ALL TOGETHER, GIRLS

This morning, women students go to the polls in order to elect a president of their union. Four candidates are vying for the important post, and for this reason, utmost participation on the part of the co-ed student body is necessary.

In calling upon the co-eds to exert their right of vote, we should like briefly to reiterate what has already been said concerning the responsibilities entailed in the campus position now being contested.

The president of the Women's Union is in effect, the head of the co-ed student body on the campus. She it is who must represent her constituents to the university authorities; she must therefore be cognizant of their opinions and feeling about campus life. Then too, she must understand and manifest interest in the many extra-curricular clubs which fall under the jurisdiction of the union.

Over and above this, the elected delegate will automatically assume a seat on the Students' Executive Council the corollary here is that she must be aware of the broader aspects of all student activity. Her role also consists of presenting the feminine point of view on the issues brought before the council. All of which is tied in with the fact that she will cast a vote on matters concerning the student body as a whole.

Add to all these factors the personal requirements necessary for such an executive position, and the issue facing women students this morning becomes obvious. They must turn out to vote for the candidate who, in their opinion, has all the qualifications mentioned—and may the best "man" win. —A.T.

A TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT

It has been evident for some time now the direction which student opinion would take on the question of women cheerleaders at McGill. Yesterday's meeting of the Students' Society served to concretize this opinion.

Although the number of students attending the meeting fell just short of a quorum, the almost unanimous vote on the motion of approval of women cheerleaders cannot be ignored.

It is to be hoped that the solid vote will bear the weight which it rightly deserves when it is presented to the university authorities.

The problem of a quorum was, of course, intensified yesterday when the official stamp of approval could not be given by the Students' Society. The number of 500 students, as passed two years ago, seems to serve more as an obstruction than an aid.

It would appear that the suggestion which arose from the floor at the meeting would merit serious consideration on the part of students. Our experience at Students' Society meetings for the last year or two has indicated that approximately an average of 300 to 400 students have attended these meetings. Therefore we consider that the number suggested, three hundred, would most certainly be a more plausible one, and would permit the Students' Society to carry on its meetings in an official manner.

However, any motion asking for a lower quorum than three hundred (or thereabouts) approaches the crux of the debate that lengthened excessively the constitutional meetings held in the Spring of 1946. The debate developed into a contest between those who thought that the quorum should be high enough to prevent a meeting from being "packed" by any one campus group; and those who upheld the opinion that the old quorum (100) was sufficient.

There can be no disagreement with the fact that as things stand, McGill students have not the medium for expressing their collective opinions on such issues as the one brought up yesterday.

Before going any further, the Students' Executive Council may well consider this "change of quorum" proposal.—A.T.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Needs of Student Vets

Editor McGill Daily,
Dear Sir:—

In last Thursday's Daily a letter by Boris Moskatov appeared eulogizing the work of Frank Common and the executive of the McGill Student Veterans' Society for "wonderful" achievements during the past year. To substantiate his arguments, he mentions the adjustment of the rehabilitation grants paid to student pensioners.

Whilst it is true that some work was done on that particular point, and especially by Ross LeMessurier, it is also true that the rest of the platform on which they were elected last year was completely ignored by other members of the executive including Frank Common.

The program on which they were elected was that they were to renew their demands for low rent housing, particularly for student vets, and an increase in grants in order to meet the rising costs of living.

At the last national conference held here in Montreal at Christmas, which several members of the executive attended as delegates, the only member of the executive who was in favor of an increase in grants or a cost of living bonus was Alistair Fraser. Bill Archer, another member of the executive, was the most outspoken delegate and instrumental in the undermining of the increase in grants. Frank Common sat "silently" throughout the whole conference and when the motion for an increase in grants was put to a vote, I have been told by reliable sources that he voted against it with his colleague Archer. This is part of what Gil Rosenberg meant by a "do nothing attitude" and the complete disregard of the membership's demands.

Another part of the "do nothing attitude", and a ridiculous one to say the least, is that according to Frank Common if you have any problems you must go to him. This is a part of a well planned scheme to kill any cohesive actions on the part of the Vets students and reduce our society to the level of a relief office.

With all these facts and many others which I have not the space to mention here, I am surprised that Boris Moskatov has the nerve of trying to smear any one who revolts against the present executive as "subversive". Could it be that Boris Moskatov is using the "red herring" as a cheap publicity stunt for the coming Dawson election, when he hopes to be elected president of the student Council?

Vets want low cost housing and more money in order to continue their planned education. They are more interested in that than a "HOLY WAR", a la Duplessis, against the so-called "subversive". Since they form a large majority of your electors, Boris, you might do well to consider them.

Sincerely,
CAMILLE DIONNE, Arts II.

Reply to Reader Lash

The Editor,
McGill Daily.

Dear Sir:—

"THANK GOD FOR HITLER!" Does Mr. Harry Lash believe that the students of McGill are so naive as to fall for his fascist Moral Re-Armament ideas? "THANK GOD FOR HITLER!" Did the miners of North Staffordshire have their wages increased 80 per cent when they increased production by 80 per cent? Reader Lash gives himself away when he says "Not one serious stoppage has occurred since the introduction of the 5-day week." Who fought for the 5-day week, the gentlemen of Moral Re-Armament or the miners' union leaders?

"THANK GOD FOR HITLER!" Did not the mineowners profit by this increased production? "THANK GOD FOR HITLER!" All movements which claim to "unite" the worker and the capitalist be they called Corporatism, Buchmanism, Fascism, Oxfordism, National Socialism, or Moral Re-Armament always end up as tools of the one class, and it certainly isn't the working class or the middle class, as was proved so forcibly in Germany and Italy. I have seen official publications of the Nazi Party which spouted the same stuff as Reader Lash. In the fly-leaf of one of them was a drawing of a worker and a capitalist shaking hands. No, Mr. Lash, there is no "Comrade Boss".

It appears that fascist propaganda, instead of condemning democracy as it did before the war, now "defends true democracy", makes it "dynamic". Oh well, 'tis but a matter of temperament!

By the way, I presume Reader Lash is ignorant of the fact that the phrase "Thank God for Hitler" was coined by Frank Buchman, leader of the world "Moral Re-Armament" movement.

There is nothing as intellectually pitiful as a sincere fascist.

"UNFOOLED".

Hymn Singing

The Editor, McGill Daily.

Dear Sir:—

The band was on the field, the baton was waved, the band began to play. Slowly people were seen to rise in their seats, "Our Alma Mater," soon, after the music to one line had been played, nearly every Red and White blooded person was on his feet. The din—of those that had been talking—was dying down, seconds later could be heard the voices of McGill students (possibly ten) singing our "Alma Mater."

Let us not continue to hear people saying, "what is that?" let us learn the words, at least the first verse, of our "Alma Mater" and let us raise our voices loud and clear the next time we hear a band playing OUR ALMA MATER.

BOB MACKAY.

Going Places

with Dusty Vineberg

Suppose that at some far future date, historians should discover, in their research into the twentieth century, that all record of the habits, customs, nature, status and accomplishment of women had been obliterated. From the year 1890, let us say, silence! For the first five decades of the crucial twentieth century, — abysmal silence!

But let us further suppose that some 2,000 years hence, an eager archaeologist shall excavate what appears to be a heavier-than-usual saucepan from the ruins of Montreal. The most extraordinary feature about this implement he will think to be its cover, which will have rather large teeth locking it to the body of the pan. Furthermore, the cover, he will discover, has a hollow steel spike in its center. Inside the pan he may find, if he is fortunate, a small metal object, somewhat like a miniature helmet, with a slit across its middle like the gas indicator of an automobile. He may surmise that this little helmet fits on top of the spike on the cover. And there, in one fifteen pound, air-light compression cooker, he will have the key to the place in society occupied by women in the twentieth century.

For the pressure cooker, when one stops to think about it, is only a sensational representative of several hundred inventions and labor saving devices which make what has come to be known as the work of women, easier and less time-consuming.

In the last twenty years the trend has accelerated. The assembly of the modern kitchen, containing the Mixer, garbage disposal unit and pressure cooker, originated in response to the necessity for them in the busy lives of women today.

Men have never been able to deal casually with factory machines. Nor is it longer possible, any scientific housewife will tell you, to allot only one-half of one's attention to the household machines. Use of the pressure cooker requires a certain amount of care. Accumulation of 40 pounds of pressure, in spite of the fused parts of the cover, will cause considerable damage in a kitchen if allowed to explode—and the timing is a matter of minutes. The modern housewife must be a technician. The pressure cooker manifests men's sharing of the world outside the home with women.

A dinner which formerly required an afternoon of preparation can now be cooked and served in one hour. The woman of the house can go to work and still conform to the old-fashioned conception of good housekeeping. Or she may have political or educational interests. Whatever occupies her, it is less and less in the kitchen, and she can accomplish more outside the home than she formerly had the hours for. The time has long since passed when married life entitled women to the uninformed and comfortable irresponsibility of seclusion.

Time and Tide

FROM FEATHERS TO HERRING

Once upon a time there lived a wise charitable king of Sideburnia. Generally speaking he was a quite, nice old gentleman, but he had a daughter anyway.

Now this little princess was very good to the poor, and often gave little presents to them, beads and feathers for their humble nests. But one day a wicked witch changed all her little red feathers into fat red herrings.

So the princess decided not to give away anymore presents.

Play for Little People Saturday: Treasure Is.

"Treasure Island," Robert Louis Stevenson's perennially popular story of adventure, will be presented by the Canadian Art Theatre for young folk on Saturday, November 1st, at 2.30 p.m. "Treasure Island" will be shown on four consecutive Saturday afternoons, Nov. 1st, 8th, 15th, and 22nd. The price of tickets is $1.00 for reserved seats in the first six rows, 75 cents general admission for adults, and fifty and 35 cents admission for children.

These are the nicest of men's histories:

Poverty and separation have no record;
Birth is not childbearing, and departure

Of generation on generation on generation.

The struggles are forgotten but not gone.

Yesterday, while I was prowling in section 12 of the stacks at the Redpath, I made a discovery—in fact, a DISCOVERY! Let me describe the scene.

"AQW57C-4" (such were my mundane thoughts). I pulled at the cord to turn the light on. Nothing happened! It was a spider's web. Second time lucky. Now! Yes, this was it!—there on the floor, under the bust of Milton—or possibly Kenneth Patchen—it lay. Though it was shrouded in dust and sullied by the tears of Milton—or possibly Kenneth Patchen—I could not have missed it. At once I KNEW that my mission in life had been accomplished—I had discovered a Forgotten Masterpiece. (I inherit the Second Sight from Aunt Aggie—though some people just think I'm cross-eyed.)

But, gentle reader, let me not hold you by this ineffable delight any longer—I can feel you straining towards page 3.

FUTILITY

By Cheyne Beaufort
The trees are in full bloom,
All dead, all dead.
Is tomorrow June,
Instead? Instead?
Or do we really know
That pyrotechnics glow
In bed? In bed?

Ah! Listen to the lark
Outside, outside.
There is left no barque
With the tide... with the tide.
Thus will I try to find
What is before behind...
Too wide! Too wide!

All dead in bed with the tide,
Instead too wide outside.

Is it not truly magnificent? Does this gem not crystallize definitely the feeling that is so immediately—and yet so subtly—conveyed by the title? Ah, the exquisite sterility of the first two lines; the epitome of adolescent hesitancy of the second couplet; and the daring, yet irresponsible, escape into sex of the rest of the stanza. But the second stanza lifts the poem from mere poetic excellence to the sublime heights of genius!

Oh, the straining nostalgia of the first two lines; the acme of middle-aged depression of the second couplet; and the agonizing, yet noble, gesture towards action of the rest of the stanza! But it is the final—so unexpected—couplet, that lifts the poem from the mere maudlin of unhappy genius to the apocalyptic nadir of valiant insight into Man and his Meaning.

Alas, having unearthed this giant, my mission is over. I am so moved by it that I cannot possibly hold a more intense moment. I have Throbbled my last. Good-bye!

NOTICE: To all members of the Features Department of The Daily. There will be a short meeting in the office at 1:00 p.m. on Thursday, October 30. Attendance is most important.

The Horrid Practices of Witches

—Vigilus—

Who is D. P. Graham? I think he is some guileless Eremitic, who has lived, until now, in the Redpath Library stacks. He is identified by the symbol, Arts IX; but what does he know of those devilish Arts, and horrid Practices, that disfigure civilization? If this good and simple man is deceived in the nature and extent of diabolical operations, past and present, there are some, at least, who are not.

A LEGION OF FIENDS

Who does not know that, for centuries, in the Middle Ages, Humanity withstood the most persistent onslaught of all the legions of the Fiends, though not, alas, without the destruction of innumerable souls. Even the records, which Chroniclers leave us, of untold Souls saved only through their bodies' loss, indicate how close the Powers of Darkness approached their horrid victory. Franz Agricola, in 1596, points out "that most scandalous, dangerous and abominable sin of witchcraft has spread in all directions; no country, town, village, or district, no class of society is free from it." Lambert Daneau, in 1574, discovers that "the witches are so defiant and audacious that they say openly, if only they had an eminent and renowned man for their captain they should become so strong and numerous that they could march against a powerful king in open battle and easily vanquish him with the help of their arts".

Obeck Makes Changes in Line-up; Experiments as Indians Triumph

By BOB BORNSTEIN

Bolstered by the addition of 13 members of Vic Obeck's Senior football squad, the McGill Indians steamrollered their way to a 23-2 victory over a rather irked Eastward team at Molson Stadium last night. Red Syrett and "Dashing Don" Bussiere sparked the Red and White attack with two touchdowns each, the latter scoring on runs of 20 and 95 yards, to give the Redmen sole possession of second place.

In an effort to strengthen his winless Redmen, Vic Obeck has made quite a few changes in the Varsity line-up. The Intermediate Q.R.F.U. game last night served only as a test, in which Obeck could get a line on his charges in their new positions.

REVAMP

Fans witnessing the McGill-Toronto clash on Saturday will see a revamped line-up facing the second place Blues. You will remember that it was these same Torontonians who handed our heroes a 26-8 pasting last Saturday.

Red Syrett will be seen at halfback, a post at which he showed impressively last night. Murray Grextre and "Spearhead" Fairhead will handle the quarterbacking chores with Barclay out and Syrett moved into a halfback slot. Last year's captain Al Mann, a centre last fall and switched to end this year, will be moved once again. He will line up at guard in the coming tilt. Johnny Crincich, formerly an end is being transferred to a wingback slot, while Wally Cave has been switched from wingback to halfback.

BUSSIERE STARS

The game itself was featured by the spectacular running of red-headed Don Bussiere. Not only did this speedster gallop for two touchdowns, but he sped 75 yards early in the game, only to be hauled down just short of the promised land.

In the first quarter the Indians tallied as Syrett bucked over after a sustained march following the kick-off. Fairhead passed to Henderson for the convert. Then Lawless of Eastward amazed the small gathering with a prodigious 65 yd. kick which went for a rouge. Red Syrett booted a single in the second quarter and at half time McGill led 7-1.

The third quarter found the "O' Redheads" Syrett and Bussiere hitting paydirt in quick succession with Don converting the second major. "Bussy" Bussiere gave the onlookers a final thrill with a breathtaking 95 yard dash for a score in the fourth and another Lawless single made the final count 23-2.

Red Puckmen Lose 7-4 to St. Hyacinthe

The McGill Puckshasers suffered their third defeat at the hands of Provincial league clubs when they dropped a 7-4 decision to the St. Hyacinthe Gallos at the latter's home ice last night. Though they lost by a three goal margin, the Redmen threw a scare into the homestays by staging a rousing rally in the dying moments of the contest and drawing within two goals of knotting the count.

The game assumed a backwards appearance as both teams started off at a rugged clip as the referees seemed to have no control over them, and then tapered off towards the end into what could be considered a tea party in comparison to the opening frame. A wild free for all in the initial session livened up proceedings greatly and seemed to be an omen of an exceedingly rough soiree. But the cooler heads prevailed and the clubs settled down to playing straight hockey.

Red coach Dave Campbell was still experimenting with his lines but a regular pattern seems to be making its appearance with the lines almost settled. With a couple of weeks more solid practice before the intercollegiate schedule opens these units will be welded together into a potent attacking force.

The collegians were not up to the Gallos last night, and were saved from a worse beating by the sterling work of Jack Gelineau who was consistently taking what seemed like sure markers off the sticks of the Saints with miraculous saves. The first period was scoreless with most of the play revolving about the Red nets. Sticks gradually worked their way higher up until Biegler and Gravel raised their head height and the fight was on.

The second canto was only five minutes old when disaster struck. Within the short space of five minutes six goals were scored, with the home club counting five of them as their own. The only Red counter came off the stick of Jack Millar with assists going to Chuck Sanderson and John McDonald.

The Redmen took command in the final chukker and outscored the Saints by a three to two margin. Sparkplug of the Red onslaught was Reg Sinclair with a goal and two assists. The other two Red tallies were by Jimmy Atkinson and Johnny Vincelli.

Water-poloists Split in Tilts With M.A.A.A.

By TANK

Last night, the McGill water-poloists split a doubleheader against the Winged Wheelers from the M.A.A.A.; the juniors winning 11-3, while the seniors dropped the nine-cap 8-4. The junior win stretched their unbeaten streak to three games, and leaves them still tied for first place in the standings.

Pacing the junior attack was Don Walter with five goals, and Mike Languedoc and Bill Osterman with two apiece. Osterman's double tallies were the first in the game, closely followed by Walter's first goal the Redmen were never challenged from then on.

McGILL SHORTHANDED Two of the three goals passed goalie Greg Austin when McGill was shorthanded, and he was given no chance to stop the ball. Other scorers for the Redmen were Hal Corrigan and Norris Denman.

The M.A.A.A. win evens the record with McGill as the Redmen won last week 9-8 over the same squad. Bob Mahon scored two goals for the McGillians and Skip Onesti and Gerry Cooper one apiece. The defence team of Paltiel, Young and Earle played heads up ball, giving good protection to the goaler, Dave Townsend.

Coach Rose wants every player, whether they have played in any previous league game or not, to turn out to today's practice. Injuries to the junior team must be replaced immediately.

NOTICES

TICKETS

November 1 is the last day for refunds on student coupons to holders of football season tickets. Until then students will be refunded one dollar on each ticket by turning in the corresponding coupon. No student coupon books will be issued on Saturday mornings. General 25 cents admission will be confined to the temporary stands. Students as usual get the south stands for a coupon.

HOCKEY

All students interested in playing for the McGill Junior entry in the Mount Royal Hockey League are to report to the Verdun Auditorium at 5 o'clock, Thursday, October 30. Anyone not twenty by Nov. 1 is eligible. This is a farm team of the seniors, and anyone can be promoted to the senior team at any time. Hockey sticks will be supplied at the practice, but nothing else.

SQUASH

All squash players who left racquets in their lockers last spring are warned, that unless they are claimed within ten days they will be disposed of. This is the final notice.

ENGLISH RUGBY

There will be a meeting of all players in the classroom of the gym tonight at 7:00 p.m. Everyone is asked to be ready to go out to practise immediately afterwards.

Problem of Female Avoirdupois Outlined by Worried (Thin) Co-ed

By "SKINNY"

One of the easiest ways to surprise your friends, worry your mother to distraction, and get a new wardrobe, is to lose weight.

To either lose or—much less often—gain weight, seems to be the desire of nearly every girl. Several years ago I was continually searching for a method of losing ten pounds. I found THE method... and lost fifteen. Now I'm trying to regain five pounds.

Diet (?) Results

After I had found THE method of losing weight—omitting the fourth dessert—and had tried it out, my success became apparent when my clothes began looking shapeless. All the seams on my dresses were taken in two inches. A month later this same process had to be repeated. Not being an expert seamstress, it usually took me a month to fix my meagre wardrobe, then it was time to start all over again.

By now my mother had decided that I needed some new clothes. Then my younger sister decided that since she was now growing up, and since she also took the same size dress as I did, wouldn't it be fine if she occasionally borrowed some of my new dresses? Needless to say I did not agree with her, though it soon came to the point where I had to reserve my dresses at least a week in advance of when I wished to wear them. Now, I am glad to say, my sister has begun to grow, and I am no longer bothered with her borrowing my clothes.

Relatives can be annoying. After I had started to lose weight, my grandmother began making it very Basketball shooters away! Second section came out tops this afternoon in what proved to be a very close game up until the last quarter. The final score, 16-8. After coming out tops in the swimming, they have started off the basketball year with a bang. The girls who showed them such a fine game and really put them on their toes were of section 1A. After such a wonderful game it 'shore' was a great let-down when 1B won their game over 1C by default! Come on section manager—it's your job as well as the girls to get everybody out there. There will be more games on Friday so watch tomorrow's Daily to see whether you are playing or not.

The swimming meet is continuing this aft—the diving will take place beginning at 5:00. For those who couldn't make it last week, there will be swimming races if you give your name to Audrey Garneys. Those divers are really on the board, so drop down to the Y.W.C.A. and watch them.

Saturday mornings are not for sleeping in even if you don't have lectures. How about keeping trim with a walk up to the upper playing field and join in a game of Field Hockey.

When the men are all through their medicals—and they had better hurry—the fencing will get under way for beginners on Wednesdays from 5:15 until 6:00.

ARMISTICE DAY

Poppies will be sold again on the streets of Montreal on Saturday, November 8. McGill co-eds are asked to volunteer for this job. Those who are willing to do so should sign the list posted on the R.V.C. notice board this week. Coffee and doughnuts will be served to those who take out collection boxes.

Badminton Play Starts Tonight At Currie Gym

Here's good news for all you anxious Birdie Beaters — tonight all nine courts in the Currie Gymnasium will be available for mixed play, and from now on badminton nights will take place every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights from 7:00 to 10:30 p.m. (with the exception of special events, when the gym will be used for dances, etc.) In addition the three courts in the small gym will be available on Saturday afternoons from 4:00 to 7:00 p.m.

BIG DOINGS

Good news is in the offing with the expectation that former Dominion Champ Doug. Grant will again be available to offer instruction to any students interested in improving their game — whether they have previous experience or not. Furthermore plans have been completed to hold a number of round-robin tournaments during the year — this and a ladder to boost. All this has been done with the hope of stimulating keen competition and increased interest in the sport.

DOUBLES

Men's, Women's, and Mixed Doubles teams will probably be entered in either the Murray League or the revived City and District League. Coupled with these entries will be the entry in the Intercollegiate Loop, with play taking place after Christmas.

It has been brought to the Daily's attention that this year more emphasis will be placed on purely informal and non-competitive play than ever before. Students are reminded of the fact that they are at liberty to put up nets and play at any time of the day, provided of course that the gym is not being used otherwise. Badminton birds will be on sale at the gym on badminton nights, and a limited number of slightly used racquets are available for rental.

McGill Squash Team Wins Out Over Grads

The McGill Squash team won its first inter-club match of the season last night, besting the University Squash Club 6-3. Pete Laundry of McGill lost a hard-fought match to Boynton, losing the deciding game in his match by one point. Dale and Hampson of McGill won close matches from Linton and Laidley, the count being 3-2 in each case. It was announced after the match that a nine-man team would travel to Williams, Dartmouth and Amherst in November. As the team has not been picked as yet, it is expected that competition for places on the squad will be keen.

of the way young girls of today got so dreadfully thin. She liked the Gibson Girl figure of fifty years ago, and wouldn't it be nice if I gained about twenty pounds? When certain of my male friends heard of this proposition, they soon informed me that if I put on that twenty pounds I would no longer be able to call them my friends. Friends. They're wonderful. They're so-o-o frank! For a few years I had been encumbered with the nickname of "Chubby." Soon after starting THE method, that odious nickname vanished.

Aggies Win by 11 to 5 Score Over Meteors

By JIM ROBB

The Macdonald Aggies climbed back into a second place tie with McGill's Meteors yesterday afternoon when they took the Redmen 11-5 on their home field.

The game was hard fought all the way with first the Redmen then the Aggies getting into the lead. Kicks to the deadline by Young and Errington that put McGill ahead 2-0 in front, were soon nullified by the booting of Watson for Mac. He punted four points to send the St. Anne's boys to the fore, and came back with another to tie it up after the Meteors had sent the ball between the posts to make their total five.

The last quarter produced some fine football by both teams led by Thompson, whose play throughout the game verged on the spectacular, and Scrivens the Aggies drove into touchdown territory several times, only to be stopped by a fighting McGill line, led by Pat Wickham and Worden. The Meteors came back only to have their attack stopped when Ritchie of Mac intercepted one of the Redmen's passes.

It was the Aggies turn to try for the lead, but once again the Big Red line held and with only a few seconds left Mac tried a kick. The ball came to Errington behind the McGill goal line. His attempt to return the kick was blocked by Shamovitch who fell on the pigskin for a Macdonald touch and the game. Watson made the convert good to end the game Aggies 11, Meteors 5.

Hoop Drills Continue; Weed Cage Aspirants

The old pruning knife was wielded again last night, when Coach Howie Ryan weeded out many hoop hopefuls up at the Currie Gym.

About eighty prospective players turned out to the cage practices with an eye on the Senior Squad but last night many of intramural calibre had their

Dawson Plays McGill Tonight In Soccer Bill

The old soccer pill will be given the works again tonight up at the Molson oval as two games are scheduled in preparation for the McGill-Champlain tilt this Saturday afternoon.

Kickoff time is 7:45 p.m., when the McGill first team takes the field against the Dawson number two aggregation. At 8:30 p.m. the McGill seconds take on the St. John's first squad.

The fact that Dawson has a second team to put on the field is an accomplishment in itself and is the result of the large turnout present at all the practices. The team has not yet been picked but will be made up from the following: Hamilton, Bison-Cath, Innis, Knight, Martin, Campbell, S. and V. Brooks, Tryhane, Lowe, Manley, Lyon-Hall, Skeete, Currie, Millward and Green. No changes have been made in the first team's line-up.

McGILL TEAMS

The McGill first team is as follows: Fairstat, Lindo, B. Smith, Wolvin, Paterson, Foster, Hayward, Barnard, Saquel, Ammon, A.C. Ellington, Ferrie and Dale.

Those scheduled to play at 8:30 are: Lord, O'Brien, Jack, K. Ellington, Guishard, R. V. Smith, Stohol, Salmon, Campbell and Fong. Everyone is asked to turn out as a large group chosen from the above will take the southern jaunt to Champlain.

hopes shattered—McGill is going all out to win.

Many new basketballs have been bought, and everything is being done (that is, excepting importing stars from below the border), to make sure that McGill's entries will end up high in the circuit.

Practices are continuing on Tuesdays Wednesdays, and Thursdays up at the gym, beginning at 5:15 p.m. One other session will be held either on Mondays or Fridays each week, and all those concerned are asked to watch the notice boards.

Dawson Net Tournies Rolling; Third Cage Squad Is Organized

TENNIS

There has been a tennis tournament going on for some time now on the courts at Sir William Dawson's institution of higher learning. Netmen Sigler and Simpson have reached the semi-finals, while Agell, Schoch, Shaver and Cush are the hopefuls still in the quarter-finals. As it has rained at St. Johns pretty heavily, damaging the courts, it is feared that the rest of the tournament will have to be finished indoors. However, this had to be done last year and that tournament ended very successfully.

BADMINTON

Badminton, under the capable hands of George Simpson, is just getting underway. Word has it that the badminton tournament, which will be a round-robin affair, will start within two weeks. The gym is just one big beehive of activity these days with these badminton enthusiasts really prepping hard for this coming tourney. There is also good news for badminton beginners as headman Simpson is organizing classes for all novices.

BASKETBALL

Official word has been received that a new intercollegiate basketball league has been organized, made up of Dawson, Bishop's, Loyola, Macdonald, U. of M., McGill, and Sir George Williams Colleges. The schedule will be drawn up in the near future.

GOOD STUFF!

Em Orlick tried to have this league organized during the 1945-46 season. Unfortunately, however, the other universities were not sufficiently prepared to form a new league. At an Athletic Meeting held October 22 of this year at Sir George Williams College, it was moved that an Intermediate Intercollegiate section be formed for the 1947-48 season under C.I.A.U. Although the St. Johns boys were not represented, they have been invited to participate in this league.

This new organization practically insures a position for every one of the 30 hopefuls who turn out nightly to the fiery, fast practices held at Orlock's Gym.

It's so easy to do!

It's the simplest thing you know to give your hair added life and lustre, to rid it of unsightly dandruff, to make every strand of it soft and silky—responsive to comb and brush.

Here is how you do it. An hour or so before washing your hair massage "Vaseline" Hair Tonic generously onto the scalp, to tone up the tissues and supplement the natural scalp oils that keep your hair healthy. Then shampoo, and after the hair dries, comb in a few extra drops. Lovely? Who would ever think your hair could have such glorious sheen!

"Vaseline" Hair Tonic works with nature—not against it—to keep your hair always looking its best. It's at your favourite toilet goods counter—55¢ and 95¢.

4 Candidates for Women's Union Presidency Present Platforms

Rosalie Ann Ballantyne

First I wish to thank all those who supported my nomination, and to assure them that I will do my best to justify their faith in my ability.

My platform consists of two parts. First, to further the women students' enjoyment of college life, and secondly to instill in all of us a sense of responsibility for those less fortunate than ourselves.

The first part of my program contains the following points, which readily explain themselves:

1) The annual printing of an educational and athletic hand-book for women students, containing detailed information about courses offered by the university of particular interest to women, and opportunities for participation in Co-ed sports.

2) The printing of a small monthly bulletin, containing information of interest to women students—e.g. R.V.C. election dates—which would include a section for discussion and the airing of grievances.

3) The vigorous support of Eddie Ballon in his campaign for women cheerleaders at McGill.

4) The improvement of Freshie Teas, by dividing them into faculties, with upper class girls (Big Sisters) acting as hostesses and guides to girls entering their particular faculty.

The second part of my program I consider absolutely essential, considering social conditions today. The peoples of Europe must regain security. It is up to us as the educated class of women to concern ourselves with the improvement of social conditions and to keep ourselves informed about political and international issues. It will be our generation's world tomorrow, and we must prepare today to meet its responsibilities. To accomplish this, I advocate the following:

5) A reinvigorated system for the promotion of charitable work, including:

a) Christmas baskets
b) Settlement work
c) Material aid to Europe

6) Support of the Debating Society, and the regular invitation to political leaders to speak at R.V.C. to keep women students informed about current affairs of Canada and the world.

I have laid down my platform in outline for you to judge; should it prove acceptable to the majority, I will carry it out to the fullest extent possible.

THE HORRID—p. 2

Treatise, COMPENDIUM MALEFICARUM, indicates his ability "to afford modern instances of the continued practices of this horrid Society (of Witchcraft)".

Now we perceive this Abomination put once more into practice. Innocent D. P. Graham, what interest has that Society in houses, sports, travellers' tales, and folk songs? Ah no! The prowling legions of Perdition have reformed their ranks, and openly set up their execrable standard in what may well be the greatest curse of our troubled age. I mean the Mediaeval Conclave.

ALABAMA COLLEGE—Camping
Courses in camping have been added to the curriculum of Alabama College. These range from outdoor cookery, crafts and nature study, to aquatics, safety measures and first aid. Certain phases of the program will be taught on the campus and, to facilitate actual training, the college is maintaining a camp site near the school.

D.V.A. CHEQUES

Month of October

D. V. A. cheques for the month of October will be issued on Friday, October 31st, in the Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Room of the Gymnasium. Cheques will be issued continuously from 9.15 until 4.30.

At Dawson College, cheques will be issued in the Student Counsellor's Office, on Friday, October 31st from 9.00 until 5.00.

Those student-veterans who have not yet completed form 185D will be paid for the month of October, but should this form not be completed before the 13th of November, there will be no cheques for the month of November.

Marilyn Richardson

It is the duty of the President of the Women's Union to protect and develop the interests of the women on the campus. As a candidate for election to such a position I do not feel able to make concrete promises which I may find impossible to fulfill. I feel rather that I can only lay down what general policy I would follow.

My first aim would be to increase non-resident students' participation in college life. In my first two years I was a non-resident and then in my third year I moved into R.V.C. My participation in college life doubled, simply because I had become resident. You who live near McGill are probably unaware of the opportunities you are missing, but I do not think it is inevitable that they should be missed.

One of the great advantages, which all women on the campus should share, is the opportunity to meet people from all over the world. There are on the campus girls from many countries and all the continents, and to meet these girls and to talk with them is to broaden your mind to newer ideas and ideals. Concretely, this could be arranged by weekly teas and coke parties in the Women's Union Room. These could be given by the different years of each faculty throughout the winter.

Another aim would be to increase the methods of publicity for women's affairs of the campus. Each week a report could be published on meetings, debates and M.W.S. A.A. activities for the coming week. This would increase participation and give Women's Union activities a more important place in campus life. In the interests of the Freshettes social success I think a date bureau should be set up next year during Freshmen Reception weeks. Many Freshettes do not like going to dances stag when the upper-classmen are going drag.

There should also be increased cooperation between the residences. The girls in R.V.C., Strathcona and MacLennan Halls, as a rule, know the ANA House girls by sight only, and arrangements should be made by which they could all meet each other from time to time during the year.

From these suggestions it can be seen that my policy would be one of increased cooperation between all the different groups of women on the Campus. I would attempt to break down the barriers of differing interests so that we may all appreciate the values of each others' interests and try to develop our own.

In closing I would like to thank all those who supported my nomination.

Because of the representative character of the group of women who have chosen to nominate me for the presidency of the Women's Union, I accept their support in contesting this position as the highest honour and greatest responsibility that I could receive as a woman student at McGill. Should I be elected, my aims would be to extend the special facilities and program of activities available to women students and to see broader participation and representation of women in the general student life of the university.

Specific recommendations which I have already discussed with the proper authorities are:

1) On Dr. Roscoe's suggestion, holding regular monthly R.V.C. "At Homes" such as have been held during Freshie reception to which non-resident girls might invite men to supper in the Cafeteria and to an informal evening gathering.

2) Having tea available in the R.V.C. Lounge from 3 to 5 every afternoon.

3) Arranging to have a series of discussions led by women in different professional fields on special problems which women may meet in post-graduate work and on the question of combining careers with marriage.

4) With the Women's Union's Committee on Organization, arriving at some means of making more comprehensive use of publicity mediums and round-table conferences to assure greater participation in the activities of the women's organizations and especially in the athletics program.

5) In cooperation with Dean Gillson, carrying out plans for the complete redecoration of the Women's Common Room in the Arts Building with all possible improvements being made immediately.

The position on the Students' executive Council is of tremendous importance, as our president must be able to represent the interests of the women to that body and assure the most effective cooperation between the two executive organizations on the campus. I am particularly anxious to see adequate facilities for women students included in the original plans for the proposed new Union Building.

Finally I should urge that the S.E.C. sponsor the Social Service program in conjunction with the

Mary Stephens

Never in the history of McGill has there been such a diversity of ages of women students, and therefore, such a diversity of interests. With these diversities there is, more than ever before, opportunity in the field of women's activities—opportunity for everyone to contribute and to make the achievements of women a highlight on the campus.

There is a great job to be done, the importance of which cannot be over-emphasized. Come what may, my interest, willingness, enthusiasm and co-operation will never waver. My thanks to all those who nominated me and, if elected, I shall attempt to do everything in my power to "live up" to their expectations and uphold the principles for which they stand.

Women's Union and inaugurate specific McGill service projects run with the cooperation of all students.

I can assure the women voters that I should do my utmost to have these proposals put into effect and shall at all times represent their interests to the University authorities, the Students' Executive Council, and within the Union itself to the limits of my ability.
